

Sardor Djamolov

I build web & mobile products from idea to production.

PROFILE

Over the past three years I've worked across frontend architecture, backend APIs, databases, mobile applications, authentication, admin dashboards and deployment.

That range is the point. I can take a business requirement and carry it the whole way — deciding how the data is modelled, what the API has to expose, what the interface needs to do, and how the result gets deployed and kept running. Most of what I've shipped runs in production for real businesses.
